BUSINESS REPORT
(from April 1, 2018 to March 31, 2019)

1. Matters Concerning Current Status of Corporate Group

(1) Progression of Business and its Results

The Japanese economy in the first half of this fiscal year has shown stable growth due to the support of domestic demand mainly from a favorable employment environment and capital expenditure; however, due to slowdown of the economy in China and Europe, exports and production developed weakly in the second half. Regarding the world economy, signs of refraining from consumption and investment due to trade confliction between the U.S. and China and uncertainty of the outlook of the economy in China affected the economy in other countries, resulting in the eventual strengthening of the gradual slowdown trend.

Regarding the business environment for the Sumitomo Electric Group, the first half generally showed steady growth; however, the decrease in production of automobiles in China and Europe has become prominent since the second half of last year, and the situation became increasingly tough due to the worldwide underperformance of smartphone sales and a fade in demand in some parts of the cemented carbide tools markets. In this environment, the consolidated financial settlement for this fiscal year secured revenue increase from the previous fiscal year, as net sales amounted to 3,177,985 million yen (preceding fiscal year: 3,082,247 million yen, +3.1%); however, in respect of profits, despite proceeding with global cost reductions, due to price reductions in the automobile industry and factors that increase costs such as additional duties between the U.S. and China, in addition to an increase in research and development costs for the future, operating income was 166,260 million yen (preceding fiscal year: 173,139 million yen, -4.0%), ordinary income was 188,649 million yen (preceding fiscal year: 195,010 million yen, -3.3%), and the profit attributable to owners of the parent was 118,063 million yen (preceding fiscal year: 120,328 million yen, -1.9%), each of which shows a decrease in profit.

The following section is a report giving an outline of each segment.

(i) The Automotive segment

Through proactively proceeding with marketing for wiring harnesses, car electronic components, and anti-vibration rubbers, net sales increased 77,474 million yen (4.7%) to 1,709,426 million yen. Operating income decreased 12,136 million yen to 84,669 million yen due to factors such as additional duties between the U.S. and China and deterioration in profitability of anti-vibration rubber products, in addition to a price decline and increase in research and development costs for the future.

(ii) The Infocommunications segment

Net sales decreased 11,906 million yen (5.4%) to 208,420 million yen due to the effects of transferring the responsibility of some of the business to other segments, despite proceeding with marketing optical fiber cables, among others. Operating income decreased 2,205 million yen to 16,398 million yen due to factors such as a price decline caused by intensified competition, despite proceeding with cost reductions by improving productivity.

(iii) The Electronics segment

Net sales decreased 17,386 million yen (7.1%) to 228,933 million yen despite proceeding with the marketing of electronic wires and irradiation tubes, due to decrease of FPCs (flexible printed circuits) for mobile devices, and so on. Operating income increased 1,606 million yen to 7,016 million yen, due to improvement in the profit margin through striving for thorough cost reductions.

(iv) The Environment and Energy segment

Net sales increased 41,814 million yen (5.8%) to 759,786 million yen, due to an increase in requests for electrical works at Sumitomo Densetsu Co., Ltd. and so on, in addition to proceeding with marketing electrical wires and (power) cables. Operating income increased 5,942 million yen to 30,062 million yen.

(v) The Industrial Materials segment and Others

Due to proceeding with the marketing of products, mainly cemented carbide tools, net sales increased 14,698 million yen (4.3%) to 357,824 million yen. Operating income increased 22 million yen to 28,193 million yen.

(3) Fund-raising

The Group raised funds through long-term loans of 48.5 billion yen and through other means. The purpose of such fund-raising was allocation to repayment of long-term borrowings and equipment funds, etc.

(4) Key Issues Requiring Attention

The global economy hereafter, is unpredictable due to the effects of U.S. trade policy and the outlook of the Chinese economy, political and geopolitical risks in Europe and Asia, and so on; therefore, there is concern that the environment for the company will become tougher, depending on the tendencies of those factors, in economic circumstances. Regarding the Japanese economy, there is concern that the sluggish export and production levels will be prolonged along with the slowdown in the overseas economy; therefore, the outlook is expected to remain unclear.

In these circumstances, the Group, having the Sumitomo Spirit and the Sumitomo Electric Group Corporate Principles as the foundation of its business activities, intends to strive for further evolution and deepening of “S” (Safety), “E” (Environment), “Q” (Quality), “C” (Cost), “D”(Delivery), and “D” (Development). Also, we are pursuing the following strategies in each of our business segments for the realization of “VISION 2022”, the mid-term management plan starting from 2018 with a concept of “Contributing to a better society by leveraging our expertise in connectivity and transmission technologies through concerted efforts of the entire group” aiming to become a “Glorious Excellent Company.”

In the Automotive segment, the Group is striving to be a mega supplier, having wiring harnesses as its core, and accelerating the development and marketing of various kinds of products designed for electric vehicles such as high-voltage wiring harnesses and battery-related parts, high-strength aluminum wiring harnesses that are light and excel in durability, and electronic components and connectors for high-speed communication corresponding to electronic control of automobiles. In addition, the Group will strive to further expand its market share for overseas customers and anticipate the popularization of electric vehicles, automated driving, and connected cars, and work to further expand its business. Sumitomo Riko Company Limited is endeavoring to market globally, in the field of automotive anti-vibration rubbers and hoses and make efforts for early recovery of profitability, and is also working on developing new products for the next-generation vehicles.

In the Infocommunications segment, we will focus on responding to the increase in demand for optical fibers and next-generation optical/electronic devices due to an increase of communication data volume and the development of a fifth-generation mobile communications system, and strive for further cost reduction to enhance competitiveness. In addition, we will endeavor to further improve profitability, focusing on marketing extra low loss fibers for submarine cables and products related to data centers such as ultra-high-fiber-count optical fiber cables and optical wiring products, and marketing new products such as access-based network products and new 4K compatible video distribution equipment.

In the Electronics segment, with regard to FPCs for mobile devices, we will continue to focus on global marketing, in addition to cost reductions through thorough productivity improvement. Further, we will work to ensure the launch of new products that respond to the customers' needs such as being highly precise, thin and heat-resistant, and to expand business to automotive markets and other markets. In addition, with regard to electronic wires and irradiation tubes, we are capturing the various needs of high-performance cables, components and materials, and continue to proceed with global marketing.

In the Environment and Energy segment, we will further proceed with ensuring production capacity and cost reductions by strengthening the manufacturing organization of power cables, and strive to expand our business through ensuring capture of new large-scale power cable projects overseas and the demands in the renewal of domestic facilities. In addition, other than the above, we will proceed with marketing of flat magnet wires for motors used in electric vehicles, and also focus on expanding the business related to renewable energy and smart grids, while taking advantage of the Group's integrated capabilities, including Nissin Electric Co., Ltd. and Sumitomo Densetsu Co., Ltd.

In the Industrial Materials segment, with regard to the cemented carbide tools, in addition to the main automotive field, we will proceed with global marketing in the field of industrial machinery and construction machinery, and electronics; further, we will strengthen development and marketing of new products for the machining of difficult-to-cut materials for the fields of aircrafts and medical care. Furthermore, we will work to further strengthen the supply capacity and cost competitiveness of sintered components in each production base, and continue to focus on the strengthening of the production organization and marketing for tensioning materials for prestressed concrete and precision spring steel wires.

In research and development activities, we will make efforts to create new businesses and products that are original and excel in profitability. This includes the commercialization of magnesium alloy products, water-treatment systems, superconducting products, SiC (silicon carbide) power semiconductor devices and products for next-generation communication networks, and the acceleration of developing and domestic and international substantive experimenting for the prompt commercialization of redox flow batteries, concentrator photovoltaic systems, and energy management system-related products, with the aim of establishing a new electricity/energy infrastructure. Also, taking a long-term perspective, we will focus on leveraging the Group's strengths to develop new products in response to society's needs, including strengthening the development organization of on-board equipment that is compatible with automated driving and electric vehicles and searching for new materials with new functions, as well as working proactively for production innovation by utilizing AI* and IoT* at manufacturing sites.

Ultimately, we believe that compliance with laws and regulations and maintaining corporate ethics constitute the foundation of the Company's management, and that they are the absolute basis to continue and develop as a corporation. In particular, we consider compliance with competition laws as our most important task, and from now on, under the principles of the Sumitomo Spirit, which values doing your sincere best, not only in business but also in every aspect of your life, placing importance on integrity, and not acting rashly or carelessly in pursuit of easy gains, we will make all efforts to ensure that all corporate activities are conducted fairly and honestly and can be trusted by society. In addition, we consider that the Sumitomo Spirit and the Sumitomo Electric Group Corporate Principles

* AI: Stands for Artificial Intelligence.

* IoT: Stands for the Internet of Things, various things, not limited to information communication devices including PCs and smartphones, being connected to a network such as the Internet.

share common core values with the SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals) adopted at a UN summit in 2015; the Group aims to provide various values in order to realize “A safe and secure society,” “A green society” and “A comfortable and viable society” through concerted efforts.

We would like to ask our shareholders for your further understanding and support in the future.

- Earnings per share is computed based on the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding during each period.
- After adopting the “Accounting Standards for Business Combinations” (Accounting Standards Board of Japan Statement No. 21) and other accounting standards, we have changed “Net Income” to “Profit Attributable to Owners of the Parent” from FY2015.
- We have adopted “Partial Amendments to Accounting Standard for Tax Effect Accounting” (Accounting Standards Board of Japan Statement No. 28, February 16, 2018), etc. from the beginning of FY2018; therefore, with respect to FY2017, we have retrospectively adopted the Amendments to Accounting Standard, etc. on those figures.
- With respect to FY2015, as demand for automotive wiring harnesses and anti-vibration rubber was mainly steady overseas, such as in the U.S., and demand for FPCs for mobile devices, etc. also increased, net sales increased from the preceding fiscal year. Also, while depreciation and amortization expenses and research and development costs increased due to prior investment, operating income and ordinary income increased from the preceding fiscal year due to the impact of a weaker yen and cost reductions. However, due to the posting of extraordinary profits in the previous fiscal year associated with selling shares of Sumitomo 3M Ltd. (which changed its corporate name to “3M Japan Limited” as of September 1, 2014), profit attributable to owners of the parent decreased from the preceding fiscal year.
- With respect to FY2016, although demand for products such as automotive wiring harnesses, optical fiber cables, and optical/wireless devices had been mainly steady overseas, due to the effect of the fall in demand for FPCs for mobile devices, a stronger yen, and the fall in copper prices, net sales decreased from the preceding fiscal year. However, as a result of proceeding with global cost reductions and developing and marketing new products, operating income, ordinary income, and the profit attributable to owners of the parent increased from the preceding fiscal year.

(Note) 1. Valuation approach for the fair value of financial instruments and matters related to securities and investment securities

(1) Cash and time deposits and (2) Trade notes and accounts receivable

The carrying amount approximates the fair value because of the short maturity.

(3) Securities

The carrying amount is nearly equal to the fair value because of the short maturity.

(4) Investment securities

Investment securities which have a quoted market value are stated at the fair market value.

The fair value of those which do not have a quoted market value is estimated based on the present value of future cash flows using appropriate current discount rates.

(5) Trade notes and accounts payable

The carrying amount approximates the fair value because of the short maturity.

(6) Short-term debt

The carrying amount approximates the fair value because of the short maturity of one year or less.

(7) Bonds

The fair value of bonds is stated at the fair market value.

(8) Long-term debt

The fair value of long-term debt is estimated based on the present value of future cash flows using appropriate current discount rates.

2. Unlisted Securities (the carrying amount on the consolidated balance sheet is ¥97,054 million) are not included in "(4) Investment securities," because they do not have quoted market values and their future cash flows cannot be estimated, therefore, their fair value is hard to determine.

7. Per Share Information

Net assets per share	¥1,988.58
Earnings per share	¥ 151.38
